In addition, when you apply for a job or position with us we may collect certain information from you (including your name, contact details, working history and relevant records checks) from your resume or job application, any recruitment consultant, your previous employers and others who may be able to provide information to us to assist in our decision on whether or not to make you an offer of employment or engage you under a contract. This Privacy Policy does not apply to acts and practices in relation to employee records of our current and former employees, which are exempt from the Privacy Act.

Using our website and cookies

We may collect personal information about you when you use and access our website.

While we do not use browsing information to identify you personally, we may record certain information about your use of our website, such as which pages you visit, the time and date of your visit and the internet protocol address assigned to your computer.

We may also use 'cookies' or other similar tracking technologies on our website that help us track your website usage and remember your preferences. Cookies are small files that store information on your computer, TV, mobile phone or other device. They enable the entity that put the cookie on your device to recognise you across different websites, services, devices and/or browsing sessions. You can disable cookies through your internet browser but our website may not work as intended for you if you do so.

We may also use Google Analytics to help analyse how you use our website. Google Analytics generates statistical and other information about website use by means of cookies. Google will store this information. If you do not want your website visit data reported by Google Analytics, you can install the Google Analytics opt-out browser add-on. For more details on installing and uninstalling the add-on, please visit the Google Analytics opt-out page at <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

We may also use cookies to enable us to collect data that may include personal information. For example, where a cookie is linked to a form or payment you have submitted, it will be considered personal information under the Privacy Act. We will handle any personal information collected by cookies in the same way that we handle all other personal information as described in this Privacy Policy.

Why do we collect, use and disclose personal information?

We may collect, hold, use and disclose your personal information for the following purposes:

- to enable you to access and use our website, products and services;
- to operate, protect, improve and optimise our website, products and services, business and our users', customers' and participants' experiences, such as to perform analytics, conduct research and for advertising and marketing;
- to send you service, support and administrative messages, reminders, technical notices, updates, security alerts, and information, products or services requested by you;
- to process and consider any application submitted by you (such as an employment application or an application to participate in the Festival);
- to process and administer any form submitted by you (such as registration for Festival membership or media accreditation or providing you information about third party-produced Festival events and activities for the preparation of marketing material);
- to process any payments made by you (such as payment of an application to participate in the Festival, for participation in the Festival or for a corporate hospitality package to attend the Festival);
- to invite you to Festival or Festival-related events and activities;
- to send you marketing and promotional messages and other information that may be of interest to you, including information sent by, or on behalf of, our partners, suppliers and other business partners that we think you may find interesting;
- to administer rewards, surveys, contests, or other promotional activities or events sponsored or managed by us or our partners, suppliers or other business partners;
- to comply with our legal obligations, resolve any disputes that we may have with any of our users, and enforce our agreements with third parties; and
- to consider your employment application.

We may also disclose your personal information to a trusted third party who also holds other information about you. This third party may combine that information in order to enable it and us to develop anonymised consumer insights so that we can better understand your preferences and interests, personalise your experience and enhance the products and services that you receive.

Do we use your personal information for direct marketing?

We and our carefully selected partners, suppliers and other business partners may send you direct marketing communications and information about our and their services and products. This may take the form of emails, SMS, mail or other forms of communication, in accordance with the Spam Act and the Privacy Act. You may opt-out of receiving marketing materials from us and/or our sponsors, suppliers and other business partners by contacting us via the information below or by using the opt-out facilities provided (e.g. an unsubscribe link or check box).

To whom do we disclose your personal information?

We may disclose personal information for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy to:

- our employees and related bodies corporate;
- third party suppliers and service providers (including, but not limited to, website, cloud and data hosting providers for the operation of our website and online forms, software and email communications providers, PR agencies, event producers as well as other suppliers and service providers in relation to our business or in connection with providing our products and services to you);

- our existing or potential agents, partners and other business partners;
- our promoters of any competition or promotion that we conduct via our services;
- anyone to whom our assets or business (or any part of the business) are transferred;
- specific third parties authorised by you to receive information held by us;
- other third parties such as your referee(s) in connection with an employment application or your parent or teacher who has signed your application to participate in the Festival; and
- other persons, including government agencies, regulatory bodies and law enforcement agencies, or as required, authorised or permitted by law.

Disclosure of personal information outside Australia

We may disclose personal information outside of Australia to third party suppliers and service providers, including website, cloud and data hosting and software providers located in, or whose computer systems may be located in, the United States of America and such other countries in which those parties, or their computer systems, may be located from time to time. When you provide your personal information to us, you consent to the collection, use and disclosure of your information outside of Australia and acknowledge that we are not required to ensure that overseas recipients handle that personal information in compliance with Australian Privacy Law. We will, however, take reasonable steps to ensure that any overseas recipient will deal with such personal information in a way that is consistent with the Australian Privacy Principles.

Security

We may hold your personal information in either electronic or hard copy form. We may also hold your personal information using a third party data provider. We take reasonable steps to protect your personal information from misuse, interference and loss, as well as unauthorised access, modification or disclosure and we use a number of physical, administrative, personnel and technical measures to protect your personal information. For example, any personal information that is collected via our website or which is held on our computer systems is protected by safeguards including physical, technical (firewalls, SSL encryption etc) and procedural methods. In addition, personal information which is held using a third party data provider is protected by safeguards. However, we cannot guarantee the security of your personal information.

Third Party Content

Our website may contain applications such as social media buttons or links to websites which are operated or made available by third parties. Those applications and links are provided for convenience and may not remain current or be maintained by us. Unless expressly stated otherwise, we are not responsible for the privacy practices of, or any content on, those third party websites or application platforms, and have no control over or rights in those third party websites or application platforms. The privacy policies that apply to those other websites and application platforms may differ substantially from our Privacy Policy, so we encourage individuals to read them before using those websites and application platforms.

Accessing or correcting your personal information

You can request access to the personal information we hold about you by contacting us using the contact details below. Sometimes, we may not be able to provide you with access to all of your personal information and, where this is the case, we will tell you why. We may also need to verify your identity when you request access to your personal information.

If you think that any personal information we hold about you is inaccurate or is not up to date, please contact us and we will take reasonable steps to ensure that it is corrected.
